Laura Gauch

I want to make you look. The main focus in my work is to make the viewer dive into my vision, my interests and my view on things for longer than just a second. I want to create something relatable, yet astonishing and intriguing.

I have been working as a freelance photographer for three years, during which I have gained valuable experience working and communicating with clients with different visions of their respective end products. Additionally, through my ongoing studies at Camera Arts at the School of Art and Design Lucerne, I have gained a lot of technical knowledge in various fields. I am also proficient with various Adobe photo and video editing programs and I know how to shoot and develop film. I am a native English and German speaker and fluent in French.

I am also constantly working on my personal projects, which mostly focus on social themes and are driven by personal experiences and interests.
